SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION

By E. T. "Reddy" Mullis
Soil Conservation Service

Last Monday, May 7, the U. S. Fish Commission, under the supervision of Fred Cox and Mr. Harcourt, delivered to the Bulloch County Soil Conservation District 115 pounds of fish. The fish were distributed to the district's cooperators of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District on Lovett's parking lot. This was the largest number ever to receive fish at one time. Our sincere thanks go to U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service for its fine cooperation in this valuable service to our farmers.

Those receiving fish were: Russ Atkins, Day Atkins, R. F. Anderson, W. Roscoe Anderson, Theron Anderson, Julian Anderson, Fred Anderson, O. D. Anderson, C. W. Anderson, John Altman, Lloyd Barnes, Edwin Banks, J. H. Beasley, J. G. Beasley, Robbie Belcher, Dan Bland, Henry Blitch, C. Hubler, W. A. ## Don't Be Misled!

All lumber painted "green" or "brown" or even colorless, is not effective in repelling wood-destroying plant and animal life.

To be sure of a safe and effective repellent against wood-destroying insects, specify and insist on CELURE PROCESSED LUMBER.

CELURE PROCESSED LUMBER is olive-green in color, completely odorless, does not leach and is paintable when dry. . . it eliminates expensive replacements caused by rot or termite infestations.

Be SAFE --- Be SURE --- Specify

Guard against "Shrinking Horsepower"

-go safely ahead...in the clear!

Get the gasoline that burns clean*

Automation Fears Lessen

Fears of unemployment because of the growing use of automatic equipment are disappearing. With virtually full employment in most centers of the Middle West and elsewhere in the nation, automation, which is essentially production with automatically controlled equipment, is proceeding at a more rapid rate than any other industrial equipment. While fears there may be in the light of industrial history, which gives ample evidence that revolutionary machinery adds to rather than subtracts from employment in the long run.

While the general American economy is growing at the fastest pace in history, the president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. points out that the production and sale of equipment to do things automatically, from regulating home temperatures to flying guided missiles, is growing even more rapidly. The use of this type of equipment is a key to what is going on in automation. Sales per year of automatic control equipment for industrial uses have jumped 700 per cent since 1939, twice as much as the 350 per cent increase in annual expenditures for all non-farm plant and equipment. And, as automatic employment generally has been on the increase since then.
